Secretary of State Lansing, who returned to his deak today after a two weeks' vacation, declared that he expects to devote much time between now and Saturday in considering the Mexican question. Although no definite requests for appointments have been filed at the State Department by the local representatives of the Mexican factions, Mr. Lansing stated that he would be willing to receive these representatives.

Carramaa is represented here by Filisco Arrendondo, head of the local

Santos-Dumont Declares Zeppelins Are Failure

HAVANA, Oct. 4.-Alberto Santos-jumont, inventor of the original dirigiole airship, passed through here on his way to New York. When interviewed he said he believed the German Zeppelins had proved a failure from a military standpoint, as in the present war they were known to have destroyed only non-corobatants. On the other hand, he added, the acropiane has been shown to be wonderfully effective in warfare.

Steps Against Air Raids Cause Mishaps in London

LONDON. Oct. 3.—Scores of minor traffic accidents were reported to the police today, but on the whole London adapted itself readily to the anti-Zeppelin precautions taken last night. All street lights were darkened and the searchlights that swept the sky nightly for months were not in evidence.

These changes were made, it is understood, on recommendation of the l'aris authorities, who have been successful in frustrating Zeppelin raids.

Inspired Uprisings in Central America.

Iral America.

A new phase of the Mexican situation loomed up today when the State Repartment, receiving word of uprisings in Guatemala and Honduras, requested the Navy Department to sand a warship to Puerto Bardos, Guatemala, port haste. Secretary Daniels ordered the Sunboat Machias, now at Vera Crus, to proceed to the Guatemalan port at once.

According to the information received here the uprisings are inspired in part from Mexico. It is suspected here that General Carransa, first chief of the Mexican constitutionalists, who expelled Dr. Octoga, the Guatemelan minister to Mexico on the charge that he wa sresponishe for the anti-Carransa uprisings in southern Mexico, may have some the subtential process.

at the same time applied for retirement on pension.

Later, he asserts, he appeared before the pension board and the board decided that he had been disabled while on duty, and recommended his retirement on a pension of $50 a month. The petitioner declares that his disability was due to injuries in the Five and Tencent Store fire, in Seventh street, December 24, 1912, and the William Gait & Co. fire, in January, 1914. The writ of mandamus is sought on the grounds that the Commissioners disregarded the recommendation of the pension board in discharging him without a pension.

The discussions to be held at the coast will not center around the present conflict in Europe. Nor will the relations of the United States to any of the belligerents be considered. The delegates are to deal, in a broad way, with the general question of settling international disputes in some other way than by resorting to arms.

A large number of delegates to the congress left this city yesterday, and others will start for San Francisco within the pext few days. They are to represent all the important peace organizations of the country, including the Church Peace Union, the American Peace Society, the New York Peace Society, the League to Enforce Peace, recently formed by ex-President Taft; the American Peace Contenary Committee the American League to Limit Armaments and the Women's Peace party.
